Quarterly Issues/Programs List
3rd Quarter 2014

October 10, 2014

Issues

KKED-FM provides its listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- Child Advancement/Role-Modeling: Taber Rehbaum, CEO of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Alaska, talked about the many programs that the organization offers. He also talked about child advancement/role-modeling, native issues and the military & civilian relationship.
- Child Welfare/Safety: Marylee Bates, Fairbanks Youth Advocates, runs "The Door," a shelter for homeless youth. She talked about who they are and what they do, and the services they provide the homeless youth in Fairbanks.
- Economic Development/Farming Skills: Susan Willsrud, Director of Calypso Farm & Ecology Center, discussed the Calypso Farm, how and when it began, and what it does (field trips and learning how to farm and do all the other tasks involved). She also talked about the school garden program and what vegetables are grown.
- Economic Development/Native Subsistence: Debbie Miller talked about salmon in Alaska: how they're tracked, what's been learned about them, and how major a part they are of Alaskan life, as a food source, and historically.
- Public Safety/Food Preparation: Roxie Rogers Dinstel, Deputy Director of Cooperative Extension Service, talked about safe food storage (canning, etc.). Kyle Green, Deputy Fire Marshal for Fairbanks Fire Dept., talked about emergency preparedness expo coming up.
- Recycling Program: Rodney Gaskins, Executive Director, Fairbanks Rescue Mission, discussed the Rescue Mission's upcoming fundraiser, and he talked about the expansion of the recycling program.
- Subsistence: Roxie Dinstel, District Home Economist-UAF, Cooperative Extension Service, talked about picking and canning berries and fish, and preserving food for the winter.

SYNDICATED PROGRAMMING

ISSUE	PROGRAM/ TITLE	DESCRIPTION	DATE/ TIME	DURATION
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Giovanni distinctly remembers why he started drinking. He needed the alcohol to "get rid of a feeling, or get a feeling." But after a time, alcohol would no longer fill that void so he turned to hard drugs instead, and life became unbearable. Aaron was raised in a very upscale Jewish neighborhood, with parents who would buy whatever their children wanted. He began drinking as a teenager, and despite his drunkenness while working in the family business, his parents never disciplined him. Upon using drugs and alcohol at school, he got expelled. By age 26, he was seeking sobriety desperately.	7/6/14	7:00-8:51am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Jim's first drink was in junior high school. He had friends whose parents kept a stocked bar and were frequently absent. One of his siblings ended up in a rehab, and his transformation planted the seed in Jim's mind that perhaps his drinking was a danger to him. Matt was a young drinker; so young, he got sober at age 19. He hails from a large family of alcoholics and spent his whole young life believing that alcoholism was a normal way of life. Mark refused to attend an Al-Anon meeting when his therapist first suggested it. His father was what is termed to be a "rage-aholic" and would beat Mark. Fred's family was entirely made up of alcoholics. When his father was drinking, he could be in a rage and would beat him. Because of that, Fred grew up as a very angry kid.	7/13/14	7:00-8:48am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse/ Gambling Addiction	Steppin' Out	Andrew is another member of the "Double Winners" – people who achieved sobriety though both Alcoholics Anonymous and Al-Anon. At age 15, his drinking lead to drug use. John is both a recovering alcoholic, and seeks support from Al-Anon, the fellowship aimed at helping family members of alcoholics. Ron's first gamble came at age 10 when he learned how to shoot dice on the street corner at night. After college, he joined an investment firm on Wall Street. His job paid well and his gambling habit turned out good luck as well. But soon he started visiting casinos many nights a well, and wound up in legal trouble when he started covering loses with	7/20/14	7:00-8:50am money his clients gave him to invest. Kerri thinks her gambling addiction began at age 21. She never drank, never used drugs, but the act of gambling made her feel high.

Alcohol/ Drug Abuse/ Gambling Addiction	Steppin' Out	Twin brothers "Z" and "T" are both alcoholics in recovery, who think their first drinks came while they were in the womb, when their mother would drink while pregnant. Sam's first gambling came making bets with friends in school. His debts grew but his desire for action continues, he sought money from loansharks. Gary first began gambling at age 13, betting his friend's parents five dollars at a time. He would soon find himself calling bookies drunk, betting on whatever games were being played that day.	7/27/14	7:00-8:49am
Alcohol Abuse /Food Addiction	Steppin' Out	Both of Christopher's parents drank, and he has vivid early childhood memories of his parents drinking together up until the time they divorced. He was so in need of attention, he sought it first from other adults. Claire is a food addict, which she says is a bit different from being a "Overeater." She remembers her hands and arms shaking unless she ate sugary snacks. Sugar was perhaps her first drug.	8/3/14	7:00-8:50am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Angel grew up with alcohol all around him. His family drank as part of their social scene, and their father had a bar in the house. He can remember at age five, sneaking drinks. He soon began to use and sell narcotics. Eileen came from a family of non-drinkers. At age 13, her parents announced they were divorcing. After relocating to a new town, her new friends introduced her to alcohol and drugs. One night she nearly burned her family home down, intoxicated and falling asleep with lit cigarettes.	8/10/14	7:00-8:48am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Bill drank for thirty years, coming from a long line of dysfunctional alcoholics. He was helped in his drinking by being the son of the local judge. Paula remembers her first drink at age 13 and soon became a weekend drinker. Reaching adulthood, pursuing a career in the business world, she drank even more often, keeping the coffee mug on her desk filled with vodka.	8/17/14	7:00-8:51am
Food Addiction	Steppin' Out	Jill's life focused daily on how much she felt she should or should not be eating. As she grew into her teens, she would eat secretly, praying nobody would see her. Joe comes from a background of food. His Italian family revolved around meals. He remembers the adults in his life praising his huge appetite, which made him think that eating would earn him praise and love.	8/24/14	7:00-8:49am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse/ Sexual Abuse	Steppin' Out	Ananda entered the recovery process via Al-Anon after wanting to end her own life. She grew up in a home with alcoholic and drug-addicted parents. Laura says alcohol has been pervasive in her family. Her mother was bi-polar and her father was absent most of the time. She was also sexually abused by their caretaker.	8/31/14	7:00-8:49am
Food Addiction	Steppin' Out	Lindsey is a compulsive overeater, but he never knew it. By age 13, he weighed 200 lbs. His size resulted in him being bullied by other kids. Depression followed, which led to more eating and more weight gain.	9/7/14	7:00-8:51am

		Before Raquel entered a twelve-step fellowship for compulsive eaters, she'd eat anything and weighed in excess of 200 lbs. on her small frame. As a child, her sisters remained thin while she would wear a size 15 dress even at ten or eleven.
Sexual Abuse/ Alcohol Abuse	Steppin' Out	Alex grew up in a very conservative religious home in the Midwestern U.S., in a family which adhered to strictly traditional gender roles. But even as a young boy, Alex began to realize he was more enamored with men than women. As a preteen, however, he was incestuously raped by a male cousin. No one in his hometown would accept his orientation, so he would search for acceptance in relations that were unhealthy. Steve always felt different from other people. He first felt that way when, as a young child, he was made to repeat kindergarten. He now thinks his failure to socialize or make friendships at that age was the result of his mother being an alcoholic. By age 13 he began to pick up the drink himself. And since then he would drink to get drunk.	9/14/14	7:00-8:49am
Nicotine Abuse	Steppin' Out	Laurie is an ex-smoker, or as it's more frequently called now, a nicotine addict. While she would scare up the will power to quit, she drifted back to smoking. Vic's first cigarette came at age 10. He would steal money just to chase the excitement high he got from smoking secretly at a young age.	9/21/14	7:00-8:52am
Nicotine Abuse/ Drug/ Alcohol Abuse	Steppin' Out	Bill is a nicotine addict, a former smoker who has quit. By the time he quit for good, much later in life, he was smoking four packs a day. Even as a young child, Carlito would "play doctor" with anyone; he knew at that early age he was bisexual. He learned about his sexuality "on the street." His insecurities, he found, would be alleviated by alcohol & drugs, and that's when he found himself seeking sex as a form of escape & acceptance.	9/28/14	7:00-8:50am
